GERMANS FALL INTO CZAR'S TRAP

Men and Horses Destroyed by Explosion in Mined Ground.

MANY RIDE TO DEATH

Bed of River Filled With Barbed Wire, and Men and Mounts Become Struggling Mass of Flesh.

Petrograd, Nov. 21.—Of the three battle areas in the eastern theater of war, that in Poland between the Vistula and the Warthe rivers is now being drenched with blood in the most desperate fighting of the Russo-German war.

The Russian war office claims that the German offensive in this section has been partially checked. Losses on both sides have been exceedingly heavy and details of fighting along the banks of the river Bzura upon which the Russians retired, bring frightful stories of a trap into which the German cavalry rode.

The Russians, withdrawing along the Bzura, mined the banks. The Germans pressed forward in hot pursuit seeking a crossing.

When a heavy detachment had reached the river the mines were exploded. The destruction was terrible. Men and horses were blown to atoms. Wounded riders and their mangled mounts were thrown into the river. The horses of the survivors bolted and leaped into the water.

The bed of the river had been filled with barbed wire, and men and mounts became entangled in a hopeless, struggling mass of flesh. The survivors of the explosions along the bank who were not drowned were kicked or cruhed to death by the struggling horses. The Russians also opened fire on the tangle of men and horses and but few ecaped. Those were immediately made prisoner.

Decker of the cruiser Tennessee reported to the United Stats government today that the firing on the ship's launch by the Turkish forts at Smyrna, Asia Minor, November 17 was not intended as a hostile act. An official statement, covering this development, was made at the White House by Secretary Tumulty, after a conference with President Wilson.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Mrs. Vinnie Ream Hoxie, famed as the only sculptress whose work is shown in the United States Capitol collection of statutes, died in Washington.

Five persons were killed and one injured and one injured when an automobile in which they were riding was struck yesterday by a Minneapolis and St. Louis northbound passenger train at Halligan, twelve miles from Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, widow of the South's great general, is alarmingly ill at her home in Charlotte, N. C. Mrs. Jackson is in her eighty-fourth year.

Leon Rosenberg, eight years old of Sherrier place, near Fifty-First street, northwest Washington, was killed yesterday when he jumped from the rear of a wagon and was struck by the automobile of Lindley E. Sinclair.

A Berlin dispatch to Copenhagen says military circles calculate the losses of the whole of Germany to date as 1,250,000 killed, wounded, and missing. These figures do not include the sick officers and soldiers the number of whom is reckoned at nearly 500,000.

"Germany has six army corps equivalent to 300,000 officers and men, in this country already, and if she wins the present war it will be our turn next." Such was the statement of John R. Drexel, of New York, when he returned from Europe yesterday on the White Star steamer Adriatic.

The news received by wireless from German sources, that the Khedive of Egypt had revolted against British control and plans to return to Egypt with a Turkish army, is confirmed by the Paris Temps, whose correspondent at Rhodes cables as follows: "It is common knowledge that, following England's refusal to allow him to return to Egypt, the Khedive became enamoured of the prospect of re-entering Cairo with a victorious Ottoman army. He has organized caravans, with horses, tents and provisions for a campaign. The Turkish army concentrated in the vicinity of Damascus is estimated at 200,000 men."

Eleven bodies were found yesterday on the shore of Lake Superior, about eight miles from Seney, Mich. Two of the dead are women. It is thought they came from lumber barges wrecked during recent gales.

A larger army and more ships for the navy were recommended by Count Okuma, the Japanese Prime Minister at a meeting of the governmental parties called to arrange their program for the Imperial Diet which will assemble Decembe 5.

A dispatch from Warsaw to the Russky Slovo of Petrograd, says the German Generals von Bredow and von Bromel committed suicide at Czenstochowa, Russian Poland, after a German defeat.

Four laborers employed on the Government levee 20 miles north of Burlington, Iowa, were killed by dynamite at noon yesterday. The men were thawing the explosive when the accident occurred.

The British House of Commons yesterday formally passed the vote for the supplementary army estimate, which provides for an additional army of 1,000,000 men. This is the additional million men mentioned by Premier Asquith in the House of Commons last Monday. It is quite apart from the territorials and is additional to the 1,100,000 men said now to be under arms.

The jury in the case of the State against John Quick and Frank Shepard, indicted for the murder of the Rev. S. H. Green, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, on September 8, 1912, brought in a verdict yesterday at Lewisburg, W. Va., of not guilty. The evidence was circumstantial and it was impossible to make a case against the accused.

MAY USE BARGES OF BURNING OIL

Germans About to Make Another Attempt to Dislodge Allies.

TO FLOOD SECTIONS.

Fighting Along Northern Front Still Confined to Artillery Duel—British Show Activity.

Paris, Nov. 21.—Reports reaching headquarters today indicate that the Germans may be about to try a new plan of driving the allied troops from their trenches in Flanders by the use of huge steel barges of burning oil.

Barges in great numbers have been brought up at the rear together with great quantities of crude oil. It is believed to be the intention of the Germans to launch these along the Yser Canal and in the inundated sections between the Dixmude and the coast.

Fighting along the northern front was still confined to artillery fire today. There are signs of renewed activity of the British from Arras, however, in the movement which has for its objective the piercing of the German line of communication.

Along the Aisne attempts have been made by both the German and allied forces to assume the offensive and take up new positions. In the Argonne, about Verdun, and further south and east about St. Mihiel, fighting of considerable intensity is reported but without any decisive result.

CAT RESCUES HAWK'S PREY

Recovers Her Kitten, in the Talons of the Great Bird.

Selinsgrove, Pa., Nov. 21—In a desperate battle with a large chicken hawk a Maltese cat saved her babies and routed the bird of prey here yesterday.

An unusually large feline, the cat has for years made her home on the farmo of Charles R. Forester, an Upper Augusta township assessor. Weterday she took her two-weeks old brood of four out in the un for an airing, when a hawk swooped down and caught the largest of the kittens.

Like a flash, the mother cat was on the hawk's back, and the pair rolled around in a fierce battle.

After a couple of minutes the hawk rose into the air and disappeared, without its intended dinner.

WILL SEND 250,000 TROOPS.

Second Contingent of 15,270 Men Will Sail From Canada In January.

Toronto, Nov. 21—The second Canadian contingent will comprise 15,270 officers and men, 4,765 horses forty-eight guns and sixteen machine guns and will be ready to sail from Canada in January. A third Canadian contingent of approximatelv 25,000 men will be ready to leave for England early in March. Including the first contingent of 33,000 men the Dominion by spring will have sent more than 70,000 men to the firing line.

The military authorities also have decided to keep 40,000 men under arms in Canada to serve as a base of supply for the contingents at the front. As the British war office has informed the Dominion that reinforcements should be provided for at the rate of 25 per cent. per month, instead of on the smaller basis of 70 per cent. per annum as at first was anticipated, it will mean a drain on the numbers recruited for reinforcing purposes of from 6,000 to 8,000 a month, with increases in proportion as the strength of the Canadian forces in the field is enlarged.

With a contingent being sent to England every two months, together with reinforcements, Canada expects to have placed between 200,000 and 250,000 men at the disposal of Great Britain by next autumn.

REIGN OF TERROR IN MEXICO CITY

Inhabitants Said to be Fleeing in all Sorts of Vehicles.

MENACE OF PILLAGE.

Obregon's Army Has Left City, it is Believed, to Battle With Villa's Advancing Army.

Vera Cruz, Nov. 21.—The last fugitives to reach here before all traffic on the railroads out of Mexico City was suspended today told of a reign of terror in the capital.

Thousands are fleeing by every possible vehicle. Only a few constitutionalist troops guard the city and there is the constant menace of pillage by Zapata.

General Obregon's main army has left the city. Ostensibly it went to battle with the advancing army of General Villa, but it is believed here that instead the constitutionalist commander withdrew his forces either to the east or west of the capital, effecting a junction with other Carranza troops.

It is believed here that the way is now open for Villa to make his entry into Mexico City by tomorrow night. No forces of any magnitude now oppose his army of 50,000 men.

Mrs. Lewis' death was due to the fact that she left a dim light burning in her room upon retiring. The house is supplied with gas through a quarter in the slot meter. About an hour after Mrs. Lewis retired, another boarder is said to have notified Mrs. Fivel that all lights were out.

A quarter was put in the slot and the supply of gas started up. Of course, no one knew of the partly open jet in Mrs. Lewis' room.

Mrs. Lewis, who was a native of Loodony had lived in Norfolk three years.

COURT TO CONSTRUE PROHIBITION LAW

Use of Mails to Solicit Orders in West Virginia Questioned.

WANT QUICK HEARING

United States Court of Appeals to Pass on Right of Express Co. to Transport Liquor Shipments.

Richmond, Nov. 21—Whether the rigid prohibitory laws of West Virginia, designed to prevent the shipment of liquor into the State, can be enforced, will be decided by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, in session here. Injunction proceedings have been brought by West Virginia to restrain the Adams Express Company from delivering interstate shipments, unless the consignee can show conclusively that the consignment was ordered without solicitation. Arguments to have the cause advanced for immediate hearing were heard to-day, as it is desired that the question may be speedily settled.

Many fine legal points some of which involve the constitutionality of Federal statutes, will be decided by the court. The State of West Virginia contends that its laws, which forbid the advertisement of liquor for sale, or the solicitation of orders, become applicable through the provisions act, and the Wilson act. The defendant company asserts that the effect of the West Virginia statute is to prevent the shipper from using the United States mails to solicit orders, and that if the Federal statutes permit this, that they are necessarily contrary to the Constitution of the United States, and cannot be enforced.

Briefly summarize the case, it may be said that a citizen of West Virginia received price lists on beer from a Cincinnati wholesale dealer. The laws of the State prohibit this method of solicitation and make it a misdemeanor. As the offending party resides out of the State, and cannot be dealt with criminally the state filed a bill in equity asking the court to restrain the common carrier from delivering consignments ordered through such solicitation on the ground that by aiding in a violation of the law the common carriers was abetting it, and was therefore a common nuisance, which could be abated by a court of equity. It asked that the court restrain the delivery of all shipments unless the common carrier was satisfied that the consignment was ordered by the consignee without having received advertisements price lists or solitations of orders.

REV. DR. DARST HONORED

Episcopal Theological Seminary Near Alexandria Confers Degree on Bishop.

Rev. Thomas C. Darst, rector of St. James Church, Richmond and bishop-elect of the Diocese of East Carolina, received formal notification yesterday that the board of trustees of the Protestant Episcopal Theological Seminary, at Alexandria, had conferred upon him the degree of doctor of divinity.

Though a young man not yet 40, Dr. Darst has been very signally honored since his entrance into the ministry by congregations and councils of his church. For some years he was rector of St. Marks Church Richmond, from which he was called to the rectorate of St. Paul's Church, in Newport News. After having remained there for four years he accepted a call to St. James Church, Richmond as assistant to Rev. William Meade Clark, D. D., then rector of the church, whose failing health made assistance in his patorate necessary.

When Dr. Darst had been at St. James as assistant for only a few months Dr. Clark died, and the very extended to the young clergyman a call to become rector of the church. He accepted, and immediately entered upon a remarkably successful ministry. While his sound churchmanship and faithful adherence to the traditions of the conservative congregation continued to endear him to its older members, his own vigorous youth and sturdy, unoratorical christianity speedily marked him as also a "man's preacher" and a notable increase in attendance of young men upon the services followed.

Less than seven months after he had entered upon the duties of rector of St. James the Diocese of East Carolina summoned him to become its bishop and, after long deliberation, he felt it his duty to accept the election to what is expected to be an arduous episcpate to which he will be consecrated early in January.

Now, with the degree of D. D. from the institution from which he graduated—a fact which greatly enhances its value in his eyes—his "cup runneth over" with honor

The order of the temple was conferred.

At the conclusion of the lodge work refreshments were served at the Hotel Rammel. W. E. Davis eminent commander of Old Dominion Commandery, acted as toastmaster and a number of speeches were made.

RELIEF FOR BELGIANS

Contributions Will Be Received by Committee at the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce.

The committee appointed to receive contributions for the relief of the suffering Belgians met in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce last night and organized. W. A. Smoot, Jr. was elected chairman, J. Y. Williams, Secretary; George E. Warfield Treasurer; and Howard W. Smith chairman of the publicity committee. James Bayne, J. H. Trimyer and J. T. Preston were appointed a committee to receive and care for contributions of food stuff and clothing received thru the Chamber of Commerce. It was announced that cash contributions would be received at any of the banks in the city.

It is the hope of Governor Stuart that Virginia will contribute sufficient food stuff and clothing to completely fill a ship at Norfolk, to sail from there under the state flag. This is a patriotic opportunity to help relieve the distress of an entire nation and it is the hope of the committee in charge of this charity to have Alexandria do its duty. The gentlemen engaged in this work feel that the opportunity presented thru the press will be appeal enough to bring several car loads of supplies from this locality. The great present, immediate need is for food. Any kind of cereals, such as wheat, oats rye, corn, flour, and meal; meats, such as corned bacon, hams and lard; vegetables, such as Irish potatoes, beans and peas; any canned vegetables or fruits will be acceptable and will stand transportation well. All cash contributed in this city will be used here in the purchase of some of the above foodstuff. Good serviceable clothing will be most acceptable in giving warmth to those left almost naked. This is surely an opportunity to make this, Virginia's gift in memory of the days of hardship and trial, thru which this state once endured.

The Gazette tendered the committee the use of its columns in making this appeal and it is hoped that prompt responses will be received. The work was actively begun last night when cash contributions aggregating one hundred dollars were announced.

THE SWEATER SHOP.

A cordial invitation is being extended to Alexandria through the Gazette to visit the well known Sweater Shop in Washington. In order to put their Alexandria patrons on the same footing with Washington customers, the Sweater Shop will refund the railroad fare to Alexandria customers upon presentation of coupon attached to their advertisements in this paper.

This is a day of specialization. Mr. Julius West has made a specialty of sweaters, underwear, gloves hosiery and other articles mentioned in his ad. Through his expert knowledge of his selected lines and quantity purchases, he is enabled to offer high grade goods at cheap goods prices.

An atmosphere of genuine courtesy and accommodation pervades this popular little shop. No effort or time is spared in suiting the individual tastes of each and every customer irrespective of the amount of his purchases. It will be worth your while to become acquainted with the Sweater Shop

THE UNITED STATES AND TURKEY.

Republicans seem to be at a loss to fix upon something to cast contempt or discredit upon the democratic administration which is at present ruling the country upon the principles of common sense. Most of the issues upon which the administration has been antagonized have burned out, and as the mass of the people of the country seems contented under present conditions, the disgruntled are having a hard time in finding an opening.

The firing at or across the bow of a launch belonging to the U. S. Cruiser Tenessee as it was about to enter the harbor of Smyrna has been seized by enemies of President Wilson as a basis of criticism of his policy. The Turkish government has not sent its explanation of the incident, and until that shall have been forwarded judgement should be withheld. The fact that the matter is being investigated by the United States authorities is sufficient at present.

But prominent republicans are attempting to arouse sentiment and warm up certain jingo spirits, most of whom never smelt powder nor intend to do so.

Political circles in Boston are discussing the attack of Senator Lodge on President Wilson and the Democratic administration. The senator spoke before the Middlesex Club's "get-together" dinner Thursday night. Among other things he said:

"We do not know what happened in Turkish waters, but apparently the administration is content to have it appear that the Tennessee's boat was fired upon in warning of mines. The administration has intimated that it was a friendly act."

Champ Clark, speaker of the National House of Representatives, who was in Savannah yesterday, gave out a reply to the criticism of the President and the Democratic administration made by Senator Lodge in his address.

Speaker Clark, said Senator Lodge criticised President Wilson for not precipitating war with Turkey touching the Tennessee incident because some semidiot dressed in a little brief authority cut fantastic capers before high heaven.

"In such perilous times as these, some madcap is liable to do disagreeable things, at any time and usually these things can be set right by a little common sense, and President Wilson seems to have an abundance of that exceedingly valuable quality. So Senator Lodge would do well to smooth his ruffled plumage and use his undoubted ability to help the President keep us out of trouble. He need not doubt the fighting qualities of the American people. That never fails."

A decidedly mistaken impression as to the attitude of President Wilson and the administration toward Turkey has been created by the widely published statement that under no circumstances could this country be provoked into war by Turkish outrages.

A statement to this effect has been attributed to the President; or, at least, has been printed with the declaration that the President approved it and authorized that it be made.

The truth is, the President has made no such statement, has authorized nobody to make it for him, and does not subscribe to any such view of the situation.

It is understood officially in London that the Germans and Turks already have prepared a plausible excuse for firing on the Tennessee's bluejackets, saying it was done to warn them against dangerous mines.

THE FRANK CASE

Attorneys for Condemned Man Will Appeal to Supreme Court

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 21—The State supreme court yesterday refused to certify to the United States Supreme Court a writ of error in the case of Leo M. Frank, under sentence of death here for the murder in April 1913 of Mary Phagan.

Two of Frank's attorneys, Henry Peeples and Harry Alexandria, left Atlanta immediately for Washington to present their application for a writ of error in behalf of Frank to Associate Justice Lamar, of the United States Supreme Court.

The attorneys will base their application on the fact that Frank was not present in the courtroom when the original verdict was announced.

In the meantime, the prosecution, it was said, probably will make an application Wednesday in the state court to have Frank resentenced.

The State supreme court's action marks the seventh failure of legal efforts to obtain a retrial, which was returned August 25, 1913. Frank's execution was first set for October 10, 1913, but this was stayed by appeals and motions for a new trial.

In March, of this year, he was resentenced to hanged, the date being fixed for April 17 last. Proceedings before the State Supreme Court, however, acted as a stay of execution. It will now be necessary to sentence the former factory superintendent the third time, and again fix a date for his execution, should the United State Supreme Court decline the writ sought.

In arguing the motion before the State supreme court for the setting aside of the verdict counsel for Frank declared that at the trial the "air about the courtroom was surcharged with mob violence." It was brought out that the trial judge suggested that the defendant be absent when the verdict was rendered.

Frank's attorney's admitted counsel for the accused, consented to their client's absence, but held that Frank himself never gave his consent.

They alleged his constitutional rights had thus been violated.

Washington, Nov. 21—A review of the Frank case by the Supreme Court rests largely with Justice Lamar, who is assigned to the circuit in which Georgia is located and custom of the justices require that applications for "writs of error" must be presented first by the justice assigned to the circuit in which the case originates.

Should Justice Lamar grant the writ, the case would go onto the court's docket, and would not be heard for about two years unless advanced.

Should Justice Lamar decline to issue the writ, he might consent to an application being presented to the entire court, or the attorneys might of their own volition make application to the other justices.

CONSTELLATION WILL LEAVE.

Old Frigate Cannot Remain in Washington, Says Navy Office.

Despite appeals to the Navy Department that the U. S. Frigate Constellation be kept permanently in Washington Harbor for the benefit of the thousands of sightseers, the department yesterday announced that the ship will leave Washington Monday, under tow, to resume its station at Newport, R. I. The urgent need for the Constellation at Newport, where it affords quarters for some of the officers and petty officers attached to the Newport Training Station, makes it impossible to keep the vessel here any longer.

MINISTER IS EGGED.

Young Pastor's Beauty Attracted Too Many Girls.

A Grafton, (W. Va.,) dispatch to New York Herald says: A handsome young bachelor pastor of one of the city's leading churches was bombarded with "aged" eggs by several of the city's leading young swains who thought the young clergyman too popular with the pretty and eligible young women in the city. For some time he has been lionized by the belles of the town, and the young gallants became surly.

Several of them organized and lay in wait for him as he came from the home of a prominent young woman. Before the pastor had gone far he was pelted with the eggs of uncertain age until he was covered with their contents.

Surrounded on all sides by his tormentors, he made desperate effort to reach some of the miscreants, but the accurate aim, quantity and odor of the eggs was too much for him. Finally, deciding that discretion was better than valor, he ran down the street and called on the police for protection.

THREE BURNED TO DEATH.

Woman Loses Life Trying to Save Her Sleeping Children.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 211.—Mrs. Marcia Petro and her daughter Amie and Elizabeth, were burned to death when their home in Homestead was destroyed by fire yesterday. Mrs. Petro, who discovered the fire while preparing breakfast, was burned while trying to save her sleeping children. An adjoining house was also destroyed.

YOUTH A SUICIDE.

Son-in-Law of Ex-Judge C. J. Campbell, Takes Own Life.

Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 21.—Edward L. Jones, aged 21, until recently employed in the Hotel Carroll was found dead in a room at the hotel yesterday morning, with a self inflicted wound in his right temple. The door was forced, and the man, partly undressed, was found lying across the bed a 32-caliber revolver was clutched in his right hand. The city coroner gave a certificate of suicide.

That Jones was out of work probably caused his act. His wife, a daughter of Ex-Judge C. J. Campbell, of Amherst, was visiting her parents in Amherst at the time of the suicide.

WARNING TO DEMOCRATS.

Bryan Says Party Must Divorce Itself From Liquor Interests.

Lincoln, Nebr., Nov. 21.—Two warnings to the Democrats of the nation are uttered by W. J. Bryan as an aftermath of the election of November 3. The first of these is that the Republican party is still a big factor and must be reckoned with in 1916, and the second demands that Democracy divorce itself from any and all connection with the liquor interests of the country.

Mr. Bryan calls upon Democrats to break away from any sort of partnership with the saloon and loosen the party's neck from the millstone around it.

"The liquor interests," he says, "are at bay. They are realize they have but a few more years in which to fatten upon the woes of their victims, but they are fighting desperately. The Democratic party cannot afford to shield the brewery, the distillery, and the saloon."

SUES WIFE FOR AUTO CRASH

John Wedderburn And Five Others Asks $10,500 Damages.

Six suits for an aggregate of $10,500 damages were instituted in the Court of Common Pleas in Baltimore yesterday against Mrs. Beulah F. Wedderburn, for injuries sustained by occupants of her automobile on July 4 last on a trip from Washington to Rehoboth Beach to select a cottage for Mrs. Wedderburn for the summer. When about four miles from York, Pa., it is alleged through the negligence of the colored chauffeur, the automobile was caused to skid and strike a tree.

Mrs. Wedderburn was not in the party, but her husband, John Wedderburn, was one of the number and he was the most severely injured. His left shoulder blade was broken, a tendon torn loose from that shoulder, and his spine hurt. He is among those who sued, his claim being for $5,000. Mr. Wedderburn's suit against his wife is explained by the fact that she was insured against accidents, and any judgment obtained against her will be enforced against the insurance company, if possible.

CHALONER INDIGNANT.

Can't Get Money to Help the Suffering Belgians.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 21.—Indignant because his trustee refused to forward him a check for $500 for the Belgian relief fund, being raised by Virginians, John Armstrong Chaloner has sent to Governor Stuart a voluminous package of papers embracing Chaloner's correspondence with his attorney relative to the money.

Thmas T. Sherman, New York banker, is Mr. Chaloner's committee, who attends to his business affairs in Gotham, and Mr. Sherman has the legal advice of Joseph H. Choate, Jr. that no wise or careful trustee would consent to any additional expenditure, and if Mr. Chaloner desires to contribute to the fund, it must come out of his regular allowance. The owner of Merry Mills and the author of The Scorpion advises Governor Stuart that he will forward a check for $100 on December 1, even if he has to borrow the money.

Chaloner is advised by his trustee that the rentals of several properties are showing a tendency to decrease, and some of the tenants will hardly get through the present hard times without failing; hence, the additional sum cannot be sent him.

Mr. Chaloner's reply to the attorney's letter is that the letter is evasive and absolutely tricky.

ECHOLS TO ENTER HOSPITAL.

Well Known Virginian Has Been in Poor Health for Some Weeks.

Staunton, Va., Nov. 21.—Since his return from Richmond, following the adjournment of the State Tax Commission, Senator Edward Echols has been in rather poor health. He does not improve and will leave here in a few days to enter a Philadelphia hospital, for treatment by a specialists.

His condition is such that his friends feel uneasy about him and while it is not considered as being dangerous, Senator Echols is by no means a well man. He worked very hard during the summer on the tax commission report, and suffered a serious attack of acute indigestion some weeks before the completion of the report.

What Would You Do?

There are many times when one man questions another's actions and motives. Men act differently under different circumstances. The question is, what would you do right now if you had a severe cold? Could you do better than to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended by people who have used it for years and know its value. Mrs. O. E. Sargent, Peru, Ind., says "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is worth its weight in gold and I take pleasure in recommending it." For sale by all dealers.
